The Clerk Will Call the Roll.

A most interesting service will be held at the Second Baptist church to-night, it is a roll-call of the members of the church. The second Sunday Dr. Smith preached at the church he said he wanted just such a service. He wanted the clerk to call the roll of the church, and wanted every one to answer "present" to his name. It has been arranged to carry out the postor's wish to-night. In a large silk mill where the looms were thrumming, and all was noise and bustle a woman, skilled in manufacturing and dyeing delicate silks was tolling

She looked tired and dejected.
Her cheeks were sunken, and there were flark lines beneath her eyes. You could easily detect the peculiar sallow look which comes upon the faces of all women at certain periods. Occasionally her face, which was usually bright and attractive, would be clouded by pain just

And yet she worked, struggling along when she should have been at home, and possibly in hed. Poor little woman! How brave she was in her suffering, and how faithful. And yet, during all that time, she was unconsciously bringing time, she was unconsciously bringing disaster to her employer. Every moment of that day, white she was so bravely strugiling, the exhalations from her body were ruining the delicate colors of the silk upon which she was working.

Also, she did not know it! But when the chales of the same that the chale of the same that t surnishes a very variable lesson. It shows that women, however careful they may be, are often, unknown to themselves, exerting an influence, not only upon the persons, but also upon the things about them which is by no means agreeable. It is unfortunate that such should be the case, but it is none the lesson of the lesson uld be the case, but it is none the less beyond the shadow of a doubt, that we men of the present day can, by availing themselves of the latest and best discovf science, almost wholly overcome effects of the periodic sickness in covery for accomplishing this desirable end, but that one has proven to be so pure, so scientific, and so efficient that t is being used almost universally, Here what Mrs. Randolph Howell of Washagton, says upon this most important

I have man-kind-warner's Safe Cure. I have been so wonderfully helped by the pain-less powers of this remedy-which has seemed like a friend in need-that I have urged its use upon nearly all of my lady

Women should not suffer, need not suffor, need not be unpleasing to those about them, if they will only use proper care and the best inventions of science for their help. There is every reason why they should be both healthy and happy; they should be both his they should be there is no reason why they should be there is no reason why they should be even temporarily indisposed. Modern science and invention have rendered all this needless. Thousands of women have learned this, and can cheerfully testify to the happy condition they have been in since they learned what to do.

List of Those Who Received Invitations and Some of the Costumes -- Ladies Auxiliary Meetings.

The tea given last evening under the auspices of the Association for the Preervation of Virginia Antiquties at the residence of Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson was the most brilliant ten of the season thus far, To this several things contributed. The association's entertainments always attract representative people, and those made up last night's company-a large and coppenial one. Then Mrs. Ellyson threw open her house with a cordiality and a welcome that the ladies of the association heartily appreciate; and, finall it was prepared for guests by hands which knew all the graceful and effective secret of the decorator's art. American Beauty roses were the predominating flowers, and these were in large clusters in vases of held together by broad bands of crimsof ribbon. The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of the Virginia Hospital was held at II o'clock yesterday in the amphitheatre of the hospital Mrs. James W. Gordon, presiding. Only Mrs. James W. Gordon, pressing, cany routine work was transacted, reports showing the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. The improvement noted in the discipline of the Training School for Nurses is especially gratifying to the Board, whose earnest desire it is to yent out graduate nurses as finely equip-ped for their work as any in the country. The report of the December Committee was most satisfactory, and statistics showed the amount of charity work done to justify the Board in their claim that the hospital is a mercy to the great body of judgent sick in this comments. to the Board, whose earnest desire it is to

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Wo-men May Avoid Painful Examinations.

To a modest, sensitive, highstrung young woman, especially an unmarried woman, there is no more trying or painful ordeal than the "examinations," which are now so common in hospitals and private practice. An examination by speculum, or otherwise, is sometimes a positive fession. This would not be the case if patients heeded their symptoms in time. If a young girl's blood is watery, her skin pale and waxy looking, her lips colorless, bowels torpid, digestion poor, her ears and temples throb and she is subject to headache, begin at once to build up her system with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Do not allow her to undergo a physical examination.

66666 Here is a letter from a young lady who requests that her name should not be used, but gives her initials and street number so that any inquiry addressed to her will be received. She says: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of your Vegetable Compound. I was tempted to try it after seeing the effects of it upon my mother, and now I feel like a new person. I am a stenographer and was troubled with falling of the womb and female weakness in general. I continued to work until I was so weak I could no longer walk, and the last day I was forced to stop and rest. "I was then so ill that I was compelled to stay in bed and so nervous that I could not hold anything in my hands. The least noise or surprise would cause my heart to beat so loudly, and I would become so weak that I could hardly stand. I suffered for almost a year. It is different now. I can go about my work with pleasure, while before, work was a drudge. "Trusting that my words of praise may help some other afflicted person,
